About

Founded by the University of Toulon and University of Verona in 1998 as “Toulon-Verona Conference”, “Excellence in Services” is the 22nd Conference in the series (Toulon 1998; Verona 1999; Derby 2000; Mons 2001; Lisbon 2002; Oviedo 2003; Toulon 2004; Palermo 2005, Paisley 2006; Thessaloniki 2007; Florence 2008; Verona 2009; Coimbra 2010; Alicante 2011; Rishon Lezion 2012; Ljubljana 2013; Liverpool 2014; Palermo 2015; Huelva 2016; Verona 2017; Paris 2018). In 2019 delegates are welcome in THESSALONIKI, The city of Aristotle and Alexander the Great, Greece, for its 22nd edition.

As Excellence and Quality Management have been established as of paramount importance in Higher Education, Health Care, Local Government, Tourism, Banking, Logistics, and services in general, the Conference looks at the role of Quality/Excellence, stakeholders, resources, processes, certifications, accreditations and labels, measurement and improvement in such institutions and activities.

The Conference will include plenary sessions with keynote speakers and specialized parallel sessions.

Keynote speakers

The “Excellence in Services International Conference” will welcome Professor Dimitrios Buhalis of Bournemouth University, England, and Professor Fotis Vouzas of the University of Macedonia, Greece, as keynote speakers.

Scope of the Conference

Academics, researchers, managers, administrators, support staff in the areas of focus of the Conference are invited to submit theoretical contributions, empirical analyses, experiences, case studies or reflections aimed at quality and excellence in services.

All submissions must be written in English, official language of the Conference.
